

Occupational Health Physician

Hobson Health provides occupational health services to a huge range of private and public sector clients across the UK. We are a successful, growing family-owned company and pride ourselves on the quality of our provision and our excellent customer service.

We are currently offering a progressive career opportunity for an experienced occupational health physician looking to make a difference within their next career move.

Based from the Stoke office you will be responsible for delivering occupational physician clinics in Staffordshire, Derbyshire, Cheshire and elsewhere as required.

The work will offer an interesting variety of manufacturing and public sector experience and will involve dealing with hazard exposures including sensitisers, lead, asbestos, cadmium, ionising radiation, hand transmitted vibration and noise amongst others. Absence management referrals and ill health retirement cases will also form part of your working day.

At Hobson Health we are proud of the quality of the services we provide, and look to add value to customers at every interaction. Our work is challenging but extremely enjoyable and rewarding and you will be supported by our growing team of clinical peers and administrative support.

Candidates will offer experience of working within the specialism, have a minimum of a diploma in occupational medicine and ideally be qualified to AFOM or MFOM status. In return we offer a competitive salary depending on experience as well as fully funded indemnity, CPD and subscription fees and a company pension scheme. Applicants wishing to work part-time will be considered.
